BOWL-ERO LANES TO HOST PBA REGIONAL

The Professional Bowlers Association and Bowl-ero Lanes have announced that Bowl-ero Lanes (Lakewood, CO) will host a Southwest PBA Regional event April 18-20, 2008.

"We are excited to bring the PBA back to the Denver area this Spring," stated Paul Kreins, Bowl-ero Lanes' owner. Kreins, a 34-year PBA member himself, added, "The timing of this event is perfect because the national tour is on a break at that time so we can attract many of the touring players. We'll even invite Norm Duke back to do a clinic as well as compete in the tournament."

The three-day event will feature Pro-Ams on Friday and Saturday for youth, seniors and adults. Sponsorship packages and opportunities are available. For more information contact: Paul Kreins at Bowl-ero Lanes (303) 922-1125 or visit: www.Bowl-ero.com.

BOWL-ERO LANES TO HOST DICK RITGER BOWLING CAMP

Bowl-ero Lanes will host the prestigious Dick Ritger Bowling Camp November 11-14, 2007. The Dick Ritger bowling camps were founded 30 years ago. Since then they have provided thousands of students with professional bowling instruction that has resulted in dramatic improvement of their performance. Two of their most prominent graduates are Kelly Kulick and Patrick Allen.

The Ritger Camps cover all the physical, scientific and mental phases of bowling by utilizing a proven teaching format, implemented by the best Bowling Coaches in the World.

The Dick Ritger Bowling Camps' reputation over the years has been built on the quality of their educational program because it works and produces extraordinary results. The skill of the Ritger teachers, many of whom have been teaching for over 10 years, create the "family feeling", which focuses on the individual.

"Dick Ritger and I have been friends for 33 years," stated Bowl-ero Lanes' owner, Paul Kreins. "With 20-PBA titles, he was easily one of the greatest bowlers of all time, but more importantly, he is one of the most gifted bowling instructors in the world. He has literally helped hundreds of thousands of people enjoy our sport more than ever because he helped them become better bowlers. We are honored to be hosting a Dick Ritger Bowling Camp."
